TOWERS

Official Annual
 of Cascia Hall
 Preparatory School
 of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

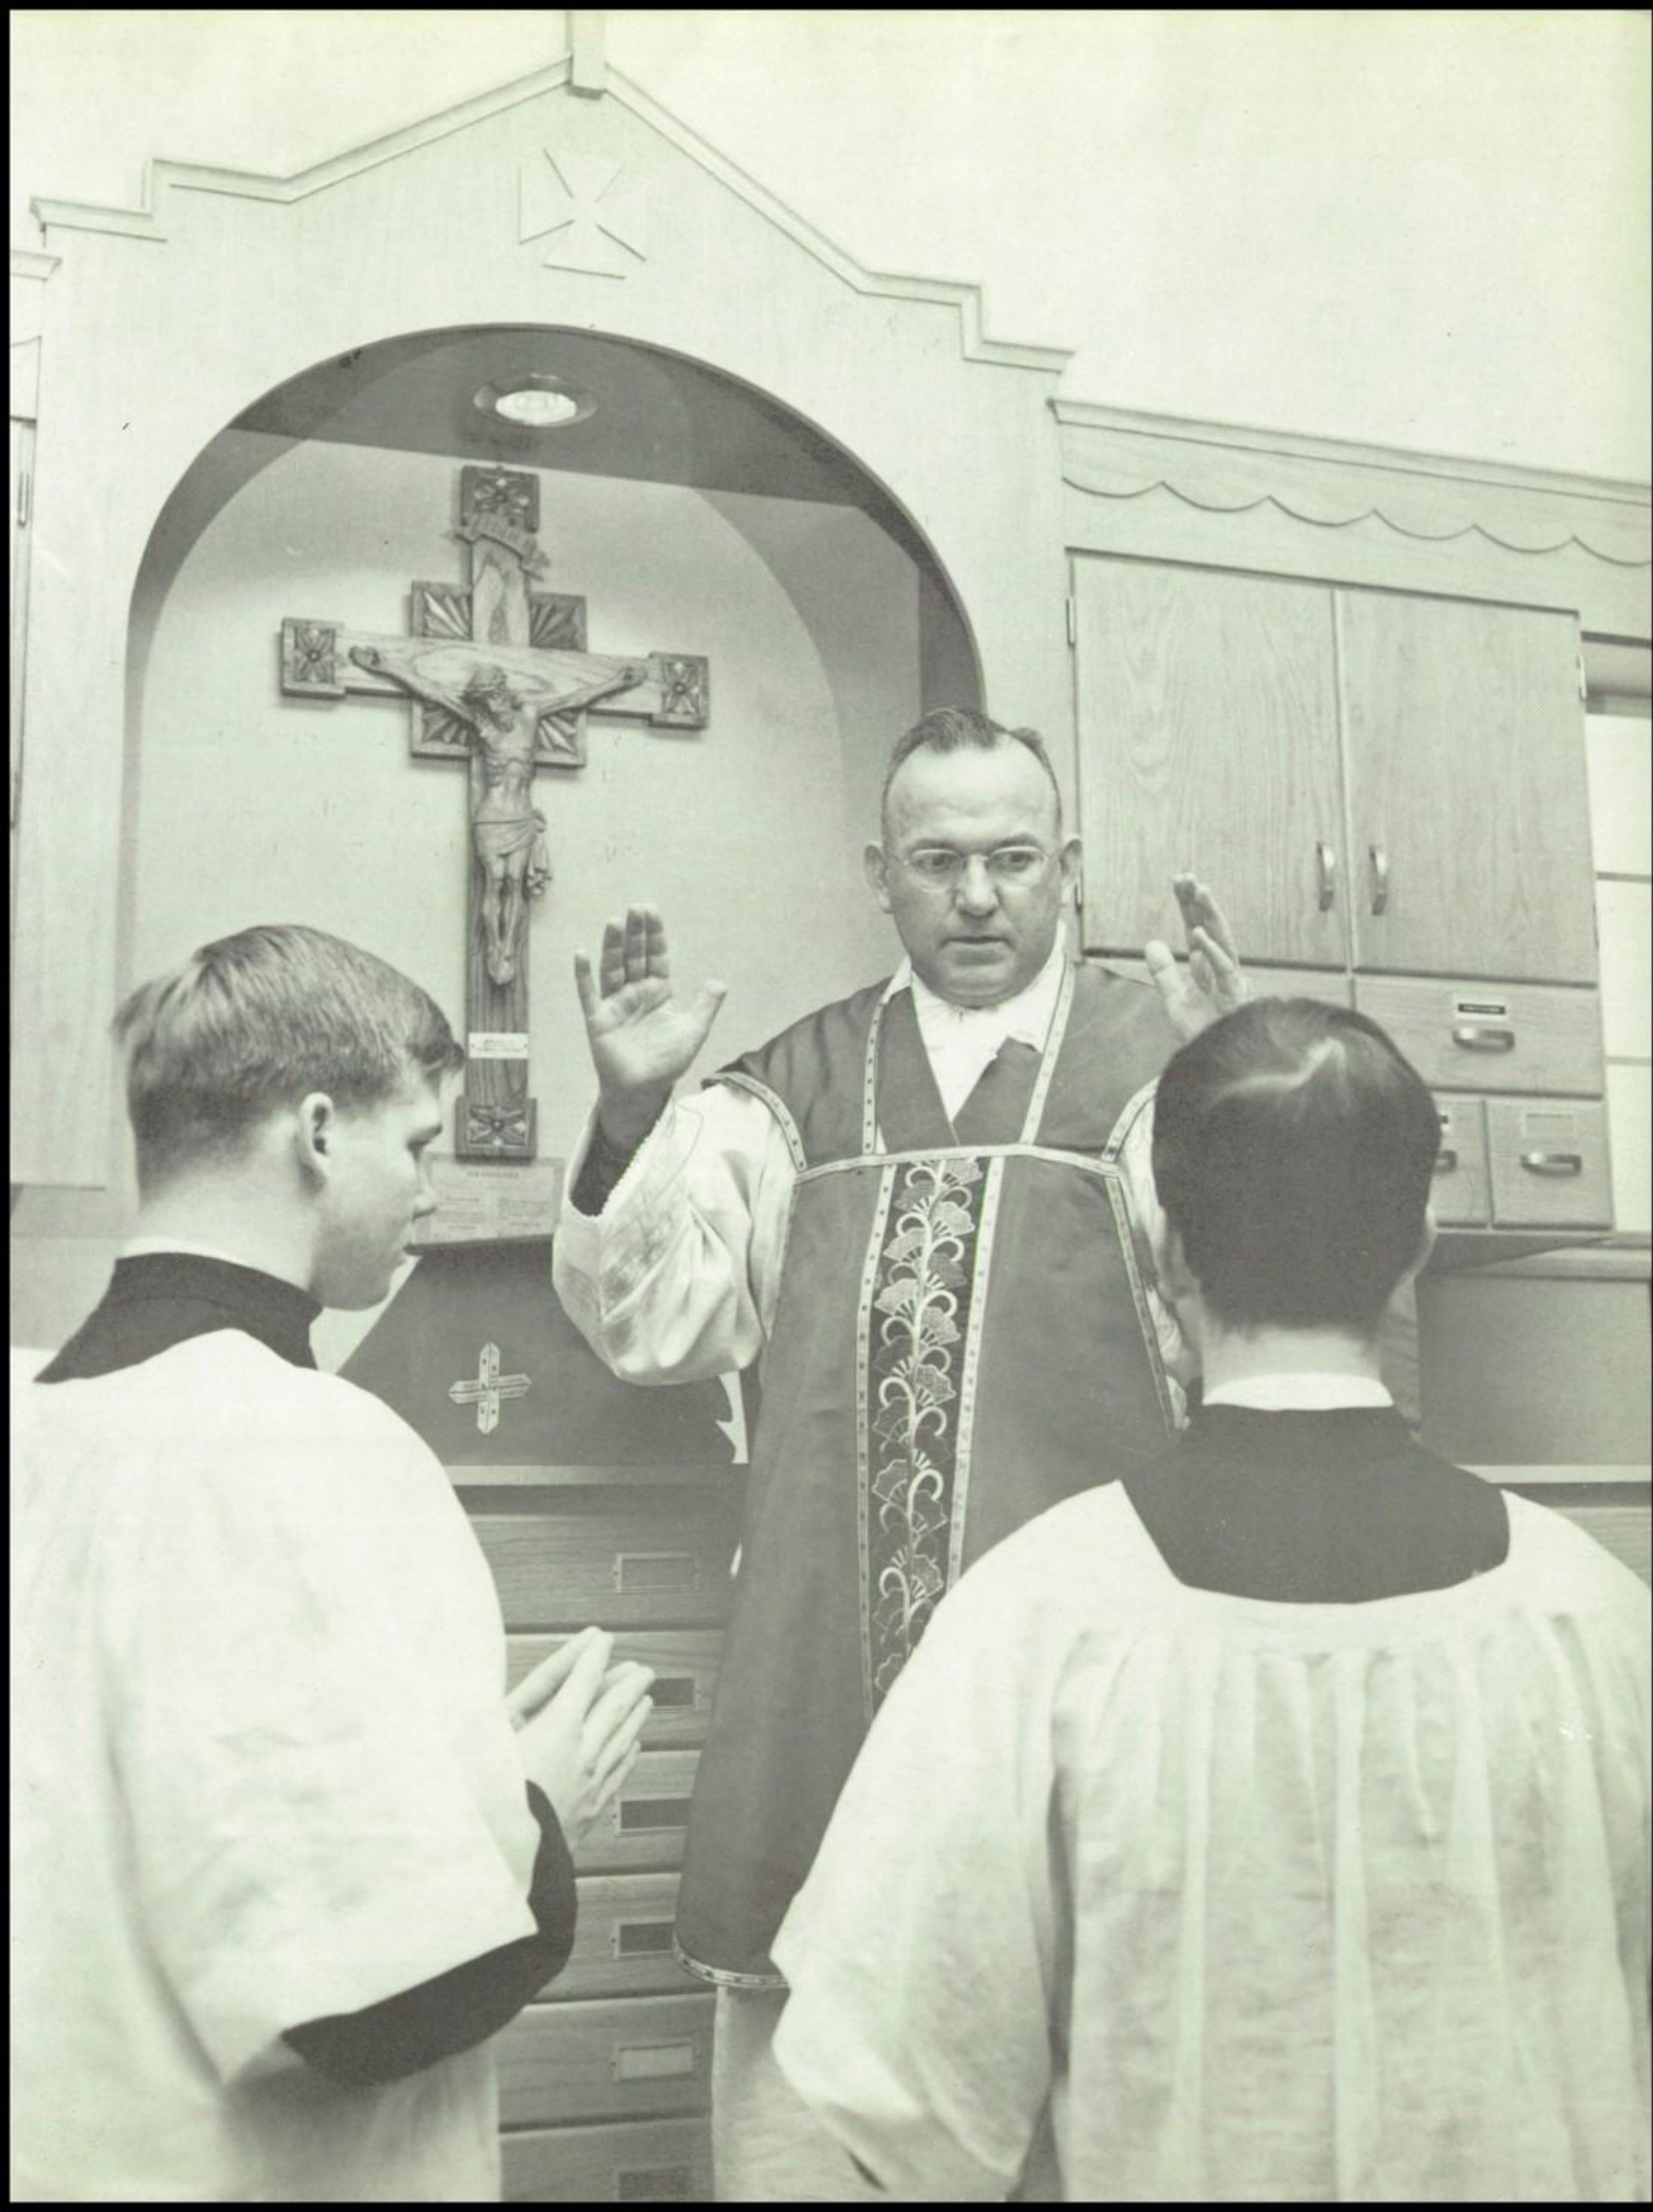

dedication

The 1965 Towers is dedicated to the Rev. James G. Corrigan, who for twenty-five years has devoted his life to the priesthood.

While at St. Thomas High School in Rockford, Illinois, from August 1941 to September 1955, Father Corrigan was coach of the basketball and baseball teams. Father then moved to Austin Preparatory School in Detroit, remaining there till March of 1963 when he came to Cascia Hall. His main interest at Cascia is chemistry.

He has been a great asset to the school and the Towers staff extends its hearty congratulations to this beloved jubilarian.

STRIVING FOR EXCELLENCE

Cascia Hall 1964-65 is particularly memorable for the searching self-examination to which the teaching staff has addressed itself. Early in the year, the Very Rev. James J. Sinnott, O.S.A., headmaster, was instructed by the commissioner of the Augustinian Educational Association for the mid-western province to conduct a thorough evaluation of every aspect of the school. In 1963, this Association initiated a policy of requiring all Augustinian schools to conduct such a study triennially.

Using as guide lines the Evaluative Criteria of the National Study of Secondary School Evaluation, the staff began its work by revising a philosophy of education designed specifically for Cascia Hall. With unflagging dedication, the teachers attended hours-long bi-weekly meetings in which they hammered out what must be ranked as a veritable charter for their students.

This document charges the Cascia man to strive for excellence both as a person and as a student. It commits each teacher to present the very best that is current in his field of specialization. It pledges the administration to reconstruct and to revitalize every aspect of school life in terms of the present needs of the American, college-bound youth.

The students' various religious heritages are to be recognized and positively encouraged. A modern, ecumenically oriented program of religious instruction and practice is carefully laid out for the Catholic students, and the academic and physical needs of all are to be continuously re-evaluated and re-formed.

This document, then, sets forth the standards for producing a religiously devout, morally wholesome, consistently studious, patriotic American young man who is well prepared for a happy and successful life and for admission into an American institution of higher learning. Once there, we trust, he will continue this program of striving for excellence as Cascia Hall has defined and outlined it for him.

With this broad constitution in mind, each of the seventeen staff members was assigned to at least three of the eighteen over-lapping committees which were required to establish new standards and programs in such areas as religion, English, speech, foreign languages, mathematics, physical sciences, social studies, guidance and physical education. Programs for extra-curricular activities were re-written and the students' interests and home backgrounds were carefully surveyed.

This project has required much more than hard work on the part of the faculty. It has involved the subordination of many differences of opinion to the gracious give-and-take of a democratically constructed instrument. It has, therefore, been a source of much inner satisfaction to all members of the faculty.

All who have contributed in various ways and degrees to the Evaluative Criteria Study deserve the abiding gratitude of us who have an interest, corporate or otherwise, in Cascia Hall. This challenging study and re-evaluation of our school has inspired the teachers to press on to the goal of making our school one of the finest college preparatory school in the nation.

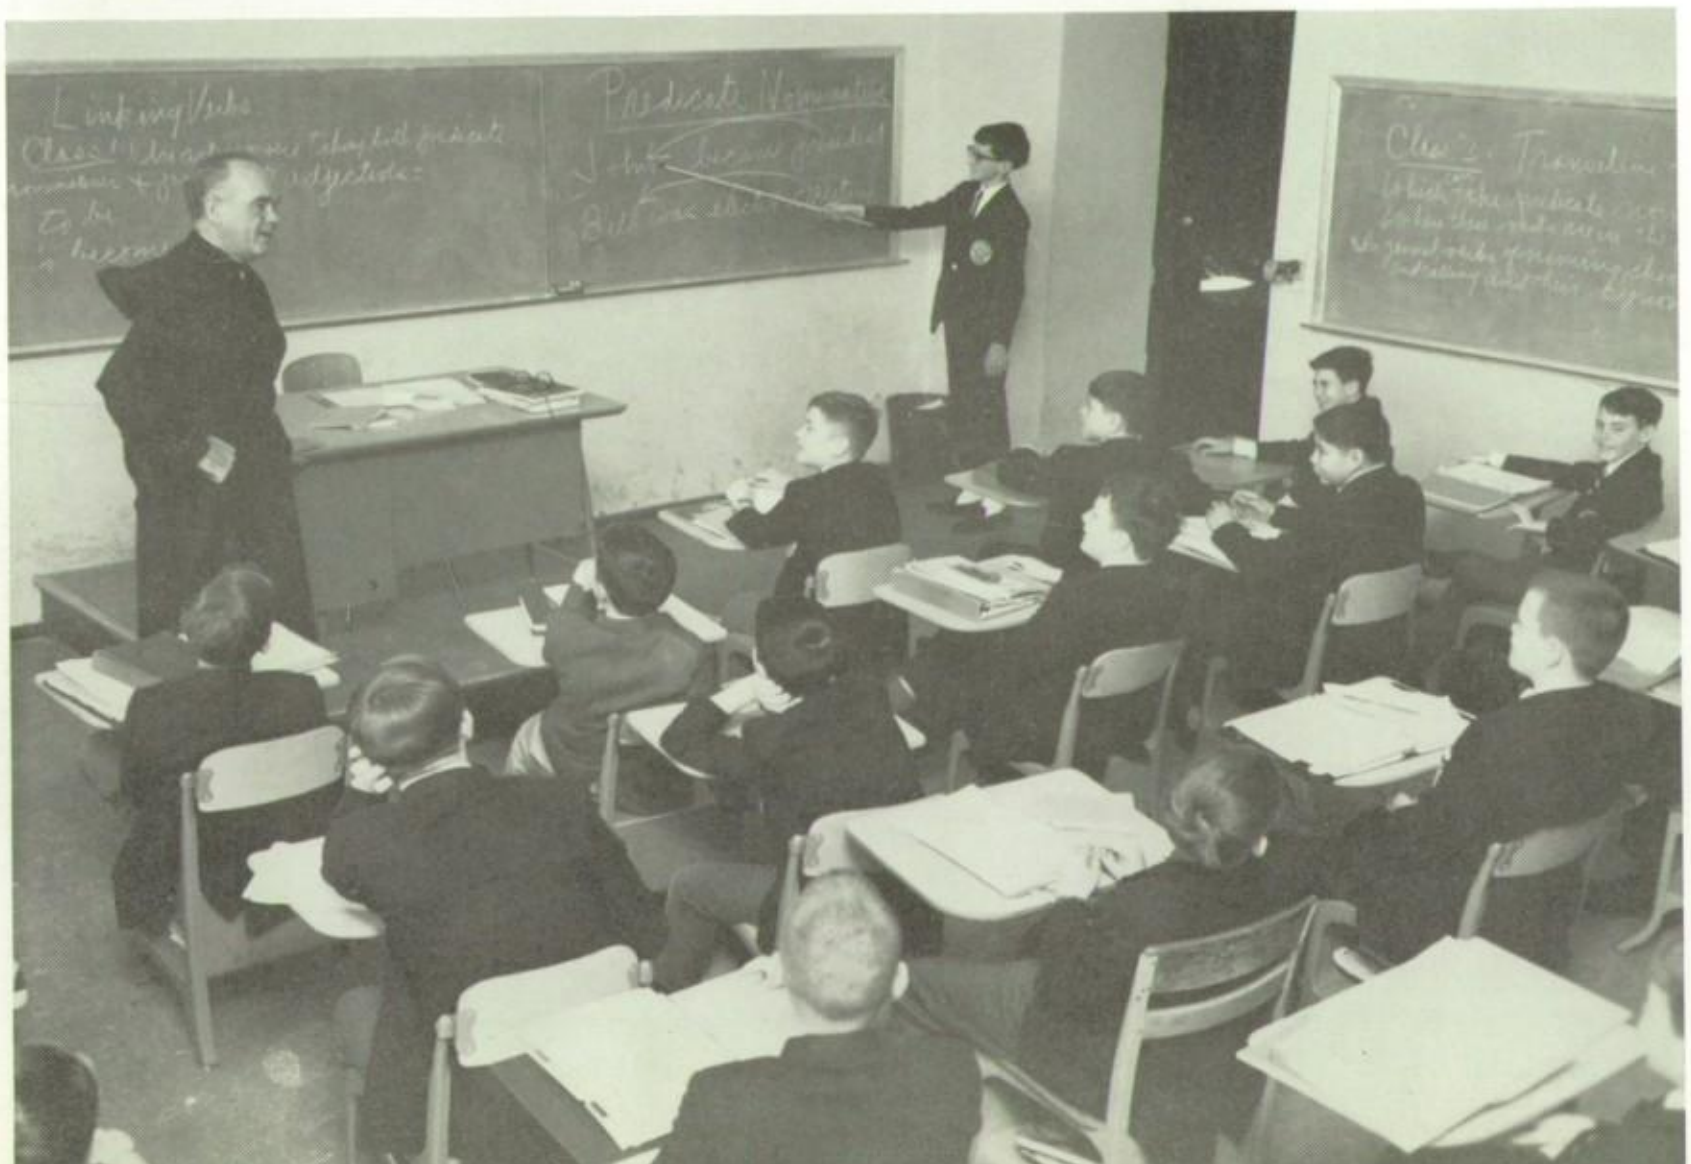

It remains for the students to measure up to the re-defined philosophy, to the reformulated aims and objectives and to the newly oriented academic standards of Cascia Hall. Believing in the relative perfectibility of our well-disciplined and well-disposed young men, we are confident that most of them will do so. They are committed to strive for excellence.

AWARDS

The men who appear on these pages have attained a position of excellence in the various fields at Cascia Hall. Whether the excellence be in the field of studies, athletics, or human relationships, they have aspired for and attained the position which satisfies them most. These medals are not for scholastic excellence alone, but are awarded after an overall study of the individual's record at Cascia. They have gained what every Cascia man strives for and are a credit to Cascia Hall, the city of Tulsa, and their families.

We of the TOWERS wish to extend our hearty congratulations to these men, and hope that they do as well in future years.

Very Reverend Francis J.
Cavanaugh O.S.A.

Prior Provincial, Province of Our Mother of Good Counsel

It is with great pride that Cascia Hall includes in the pages of her annual the picture of one of her former members who has risen to the dignity and responsibility of the leadership of the Augustinian Province of Our Mother of Good Counsel.

Most Reverend Victor J. Reed

Bishop of Oklahoma City and Tulsa

Under his guidance, the diocese of Oklahoma City and Tulsa has developed spiritually far more than one could hope for, and Cascia Hall pledges her fidelity in continuing to do all in her power to help the spiritual shepherd and father of her students.

Very Reverend William M. Fink O.S.A.

Prior of the Convent of St. Augustine (Cascia Hall)

The spiritual leader of the religious community has a great responsibility in developing the full potential of the men under his charge. He must be a father, teacher, and friend of his men. Father Fink is a notable example of all of these.

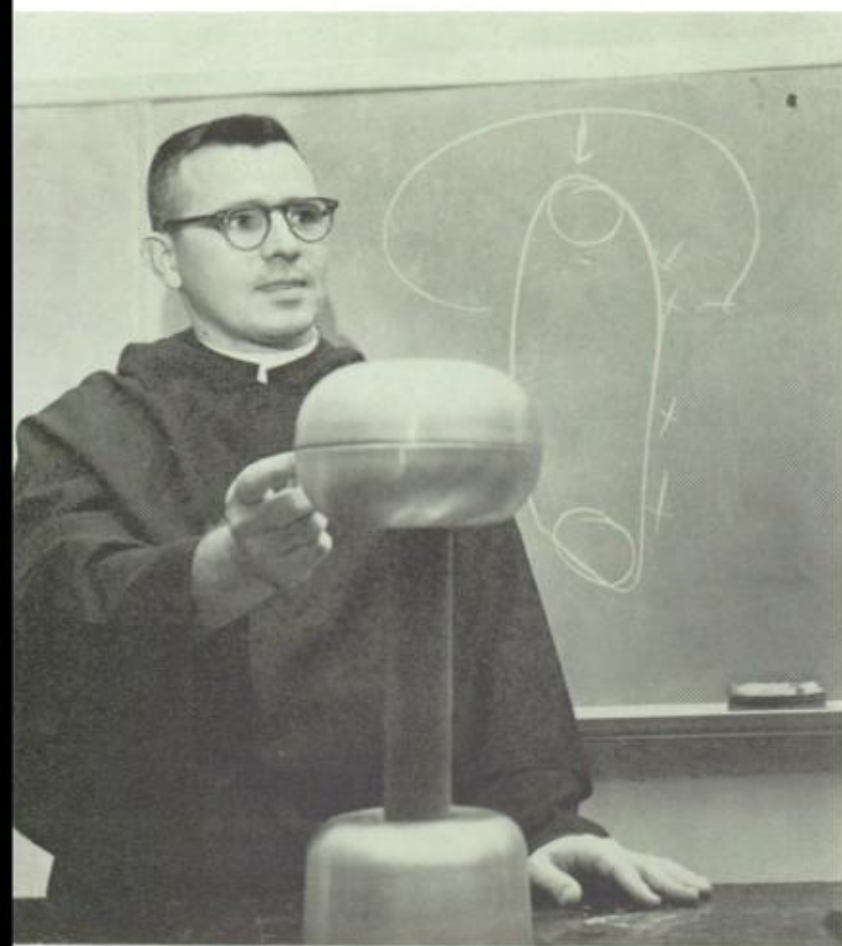

Very Reverend James J. Sinnott O.S.A.

Since 1950, Father James J. Sinnott has been the main driving force for the growth of Cascia Hall. He has watched the school grow and mature until it has reached a position of greatness in the educational world. Father Sinnott has been a very capable leader, builder of men, administrator, and friend of all associated with Cascia. Cascia Hall is very proud to have as its headmaster such a proficient man as Father Sinnott.

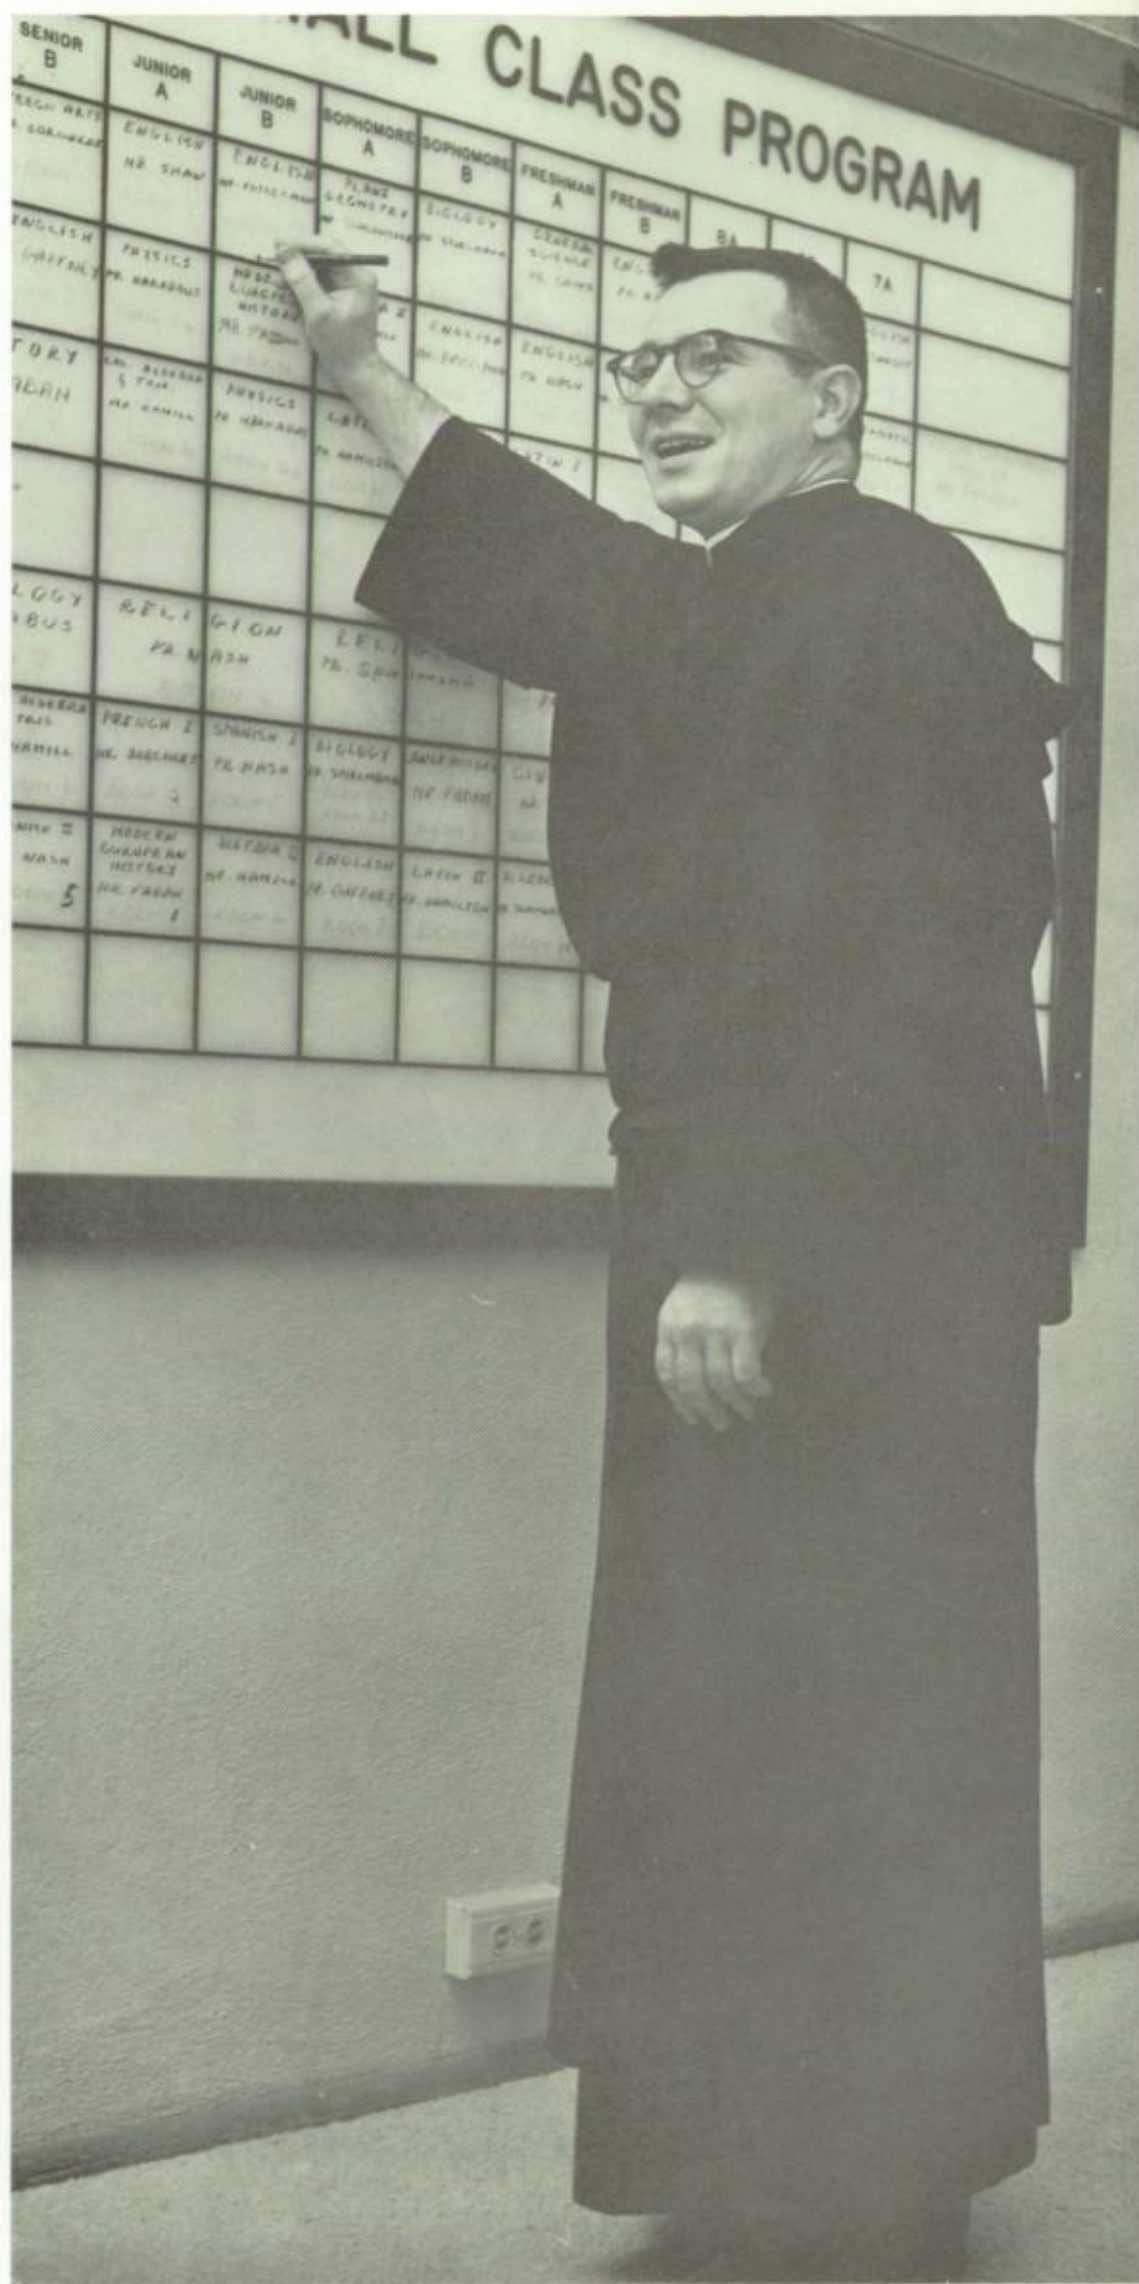

Father Sinnott inspires Seventh Grade to try harder.

Father Harkabus demonstrates Van de Graff generator.

Reverend Donald W. Harkabus O.S.A.

Villanova University BA, Catholic University MA, DePaul University (counseling), Tulsa University (educational administration), Director of Activities, Director of Studies, Instructor in Physics and Religion, Student Counselor, Father Prefect in Driscoll Hall.

Administrative Staff

Father Harkabus, Father Sinnott, Father Spielmann, and Father Gaffney.

This year's administrative staff, consisting of Father Sinnott, Father Spielmann, Father Gaffney and Father Harkabus, continued in its quest to harmonize the faculty and the students with even more fervor and success than in previous years. The job they did this year will be classified as "admirable" by both teachers and pupils, and the force of their guidance was felt throughout the entire realm of school functions. It isn't every school that is gifted with such capable and efficient leaders, and we are indeed grateful for our good fortune.

Sanctuary Social

These students are members of the Cascia Hall Sanctuary Society. They willingly give their time and effort in serving the priest at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. They deem it a privilege to serve with the priest at the altar.

At each Mass on Sunday, two members of the society serve as ushers; their presence is greatly appreciated by the Augustinian Fathers and the congregation.

By their faithfulness and unselfish acts, they seek to offer an act of love to God.

National Honor Society

The goal of every student at Cascia Hall is scholastic excellence. These men have maintained at least a "B" average through their junior or senior year, and as recognition of their outstanding achievement are members of the National Honor Society. The Towers Staff wishes to add its congratulations and commendation to these fine Cascia men who have aspired to and attained this scholastic excellence.

Student Council

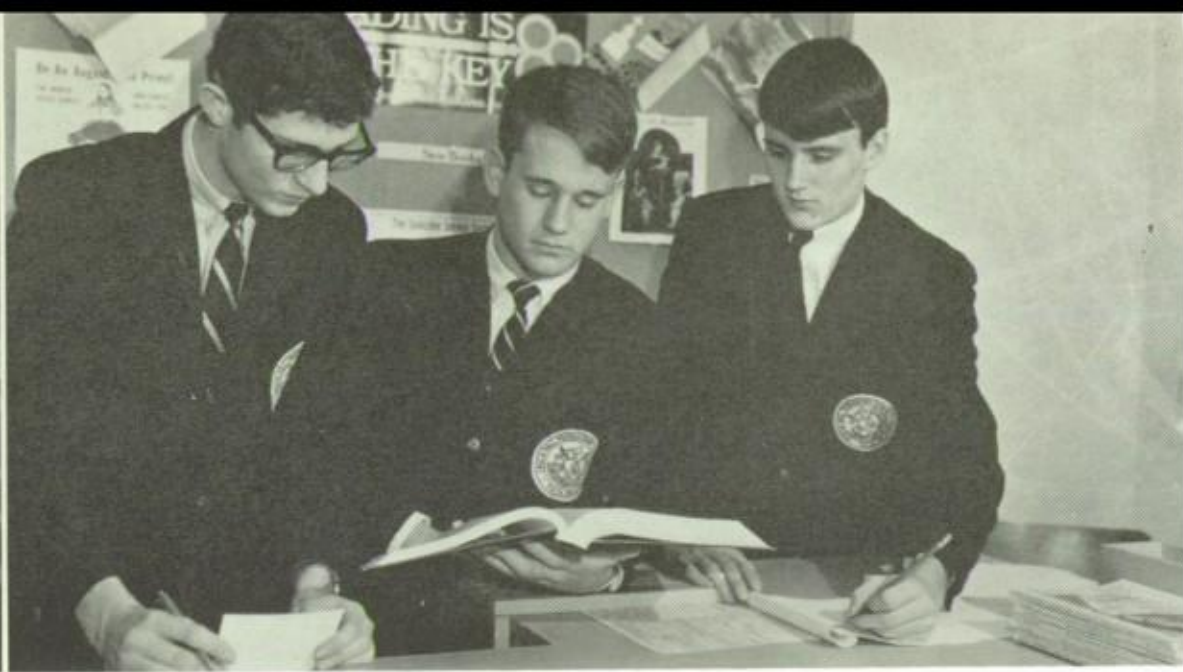

The Student Council, led by Jack Sinclair and his senior representatives, has much to be proud of. It furnishes the link between the student body and the administration. It has been both productive and efficient in originating extracurricular activities. But, perhaps the greatest feat of this council was the instilling into the students the school spirit which has always been associated with Cascia Hall . . . For its hard work and the derived student benefits, we, of the Towers, wish to congratulate and to thank the Student Council of '65.

Debate Team

The men on this page constitute the Cascia Hall Debate Team. Under the leadership of Mr. Borchert and with assistance from Mr. Faddah, the team has progressed from a group with no debate experience to an accomplished, well-organized team of which the school can be proud.

At first, the team held intra-squad debates to prepare the boys for debating and to develop a facility with this year's resolution, which involves control of nuclear weapons. They then moved into competition and did well, especially for a first-year team.

TOP ROW SEATED: Ken Fricke, Mike Tidwell, Terry Malloy, Mike Kelly, Hank Meyer. STANDING: Mr. Fad-

The Towers

This year's Towers is the first school annual produced under the direction of Mr. John J. Borchert and Mr. Robert J. Shaw. It is the goal of our book to achieve an historical record of the school year. This year's Towers is a pictorial record of the school year because we believe that "one picture is worth a thousand words."

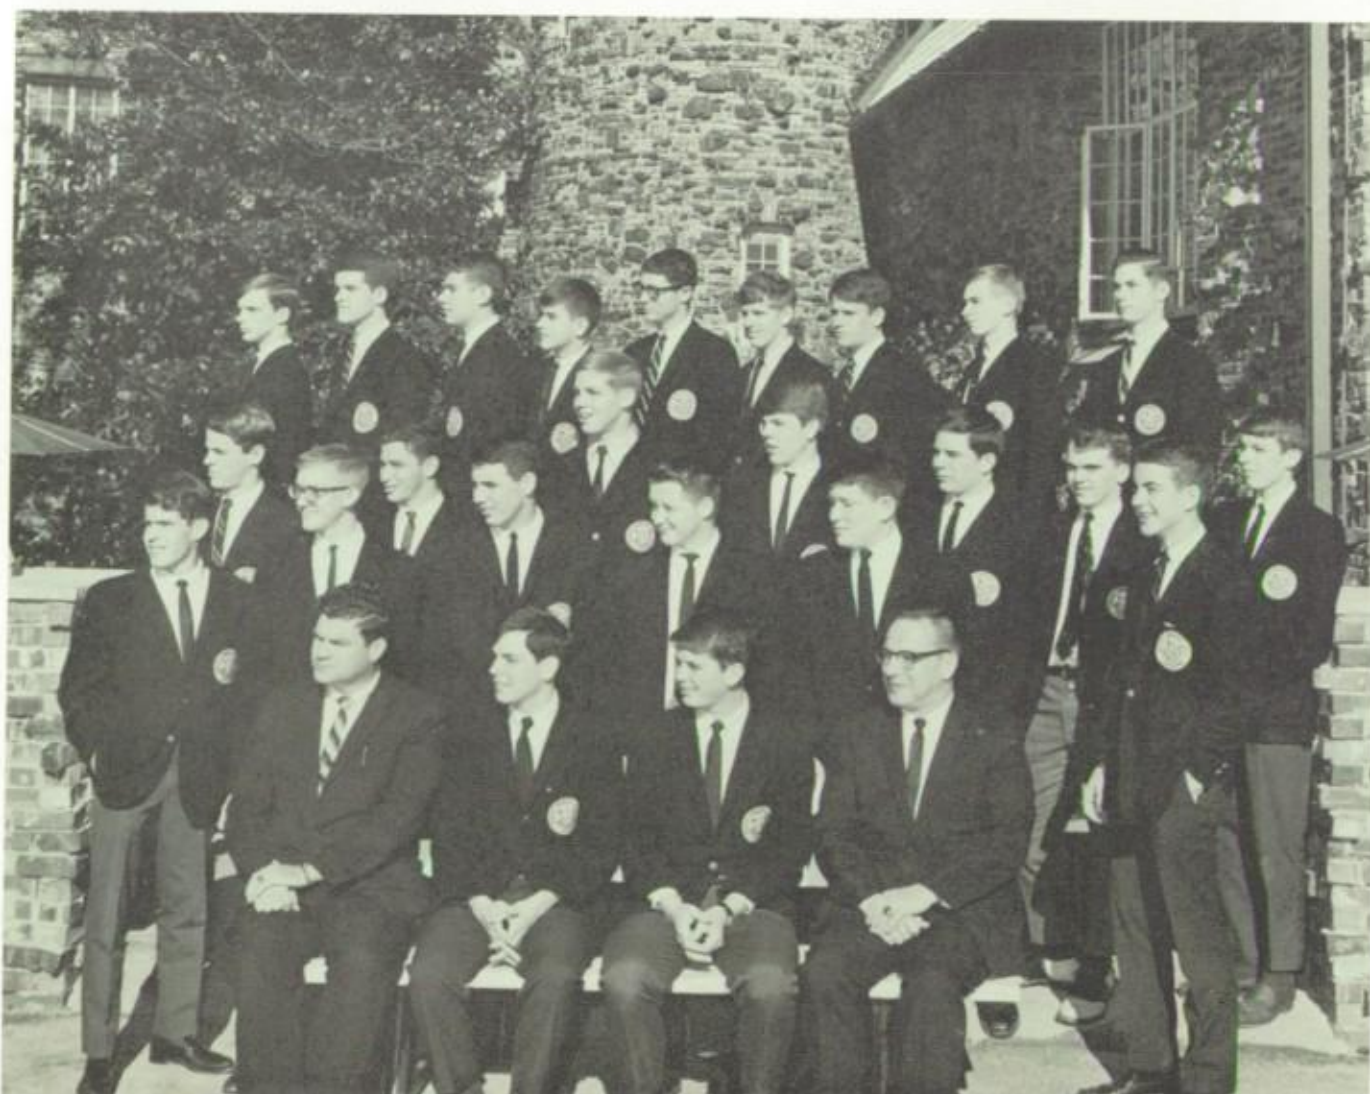

Our efforts to achieve a finer and more complete year-book could not have been attained without the cooperation of Mr. LeRoy Randall, photographer, and Miss Gene McRae of Southwestern Engraving.

May the 1965 Towers measure up to the high standards which are characteristic of the Towers of former years.

Lettermen's Club

The Lettermen's Club of Cascia Hall is composed of athletes who have fulfilled the required time on the field or court. The Club's purpose is to promote goodwill between the athletes and the members of the community. The members of the Club have helped in pep rallies, dances, and other school activities. The Towers Staff congratulates the Lettermen's Club for its achievements this year, and wishes it continued success in future years.

Football

The 1964 Cascia Hall football team, piloted by the guiding hands of William Hamill and Frank Hagedorn, brought its season to a close with a 3-5-1 record. The young Commandoes ranked second in the Catholic State Conference.

The surprisingly strong line, lead by Charles McNamara, Richard Brown, and Co-captain Bill Linehan, gave an excellent exhibition of the Commandoes skill to execute plays. The outstanding backfield was powered by Captain Steve Cullinan, quarterback, and the strong fullback John Termini. Dick Allred, Kelly Stockton, and Hank Meyer added greatly to the power of the backfield. The destructive force of the backfield's defense was lead by Phil Stetz, Mike Pinion, and Jack Sinclair.

The Commandoes are looking forward to a bright season record next year, as there will be many returning experienced lettermen.

Allred scores on pass from Cullinan.

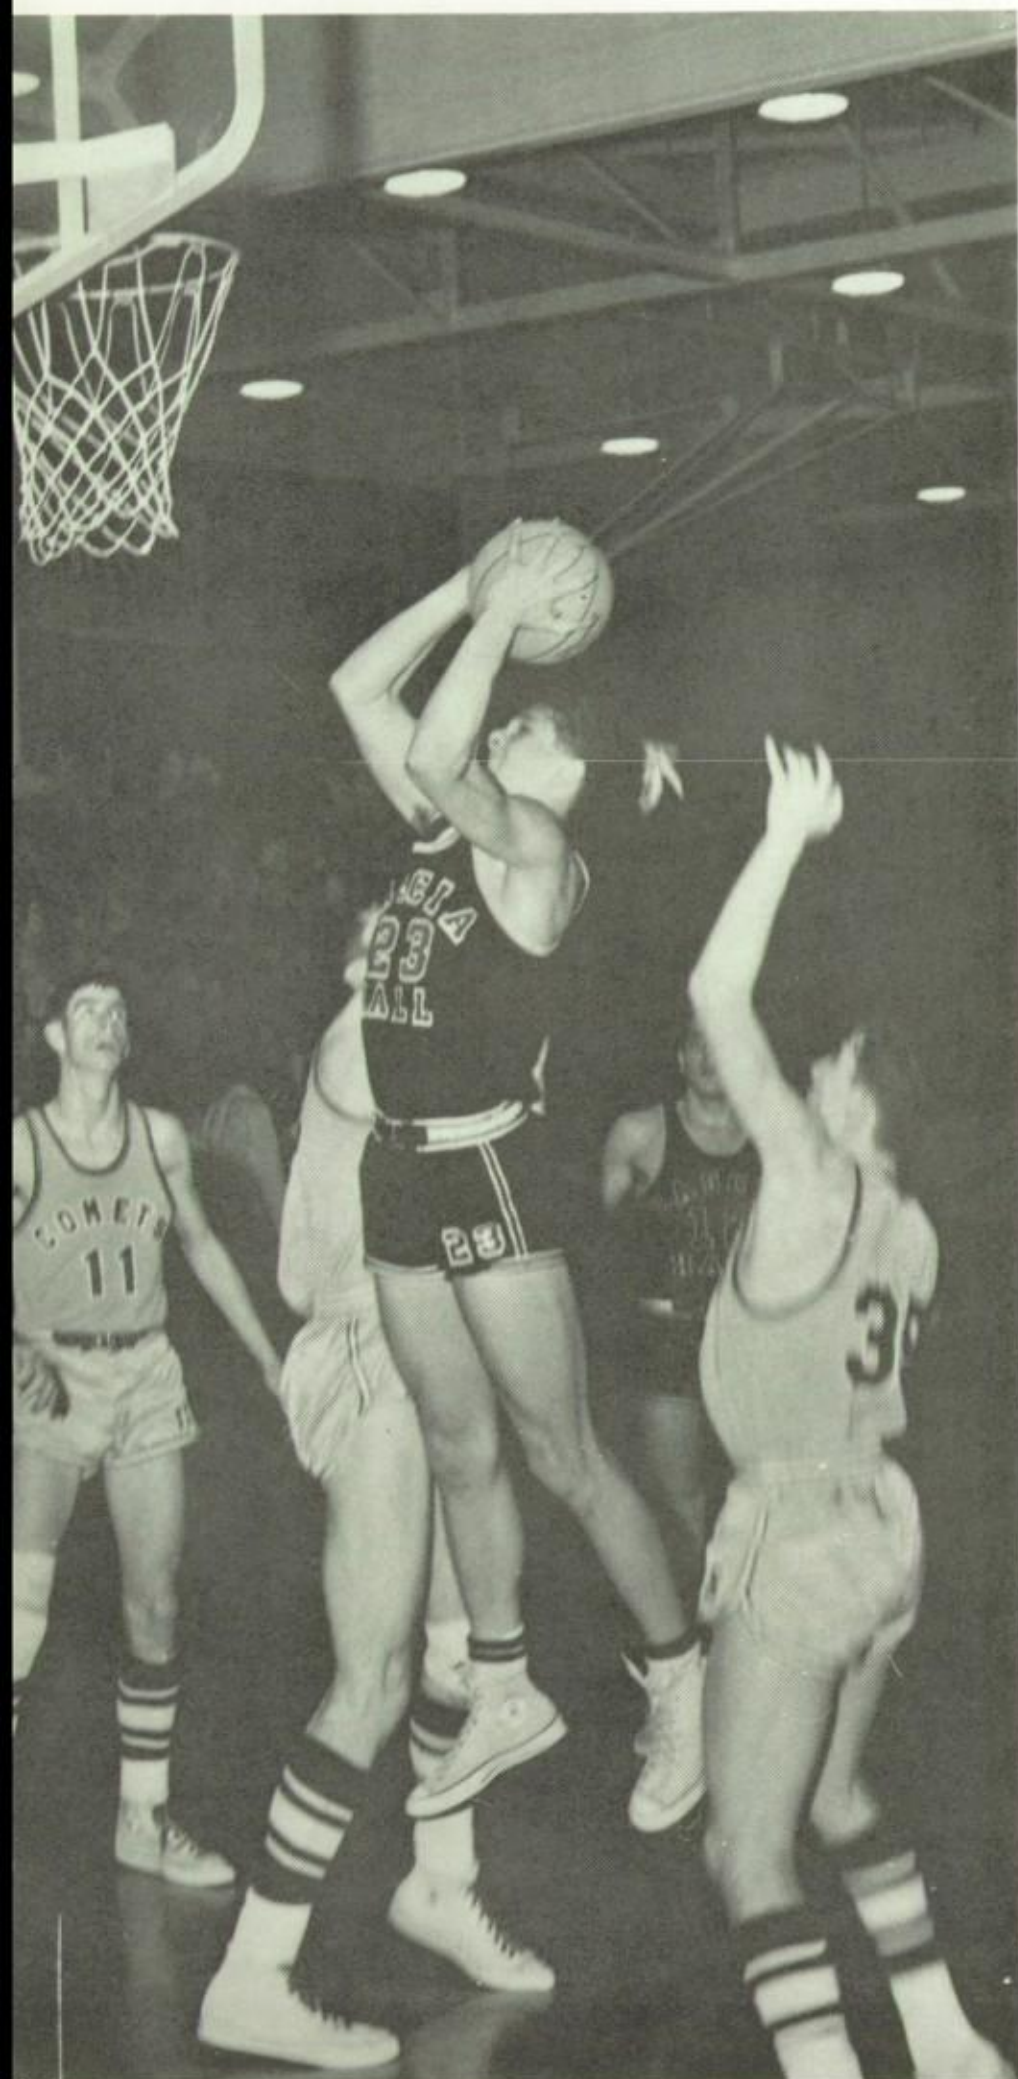

Basketball

The surprising 1964-65 Commando basketball team, guided by Coach Jerry Andress, battled to a 10-12 record. Depending on the leadership of the returning lettermen, Charlie Rotter, Kelly Stockton and Dick Allred, the Commandoes developed their young material and clinched second place in the Catholic Conference.

With the regular season ended, the Commandoes went to Oklahoma City for the Catholic High School Tournament. Cascia drew a bye on the first night of action. On the following night we played St. Mary's, and after a "see-saw" battle, the Commandoes finally beat the Rockets to enter into the finals against St. Gregory's.

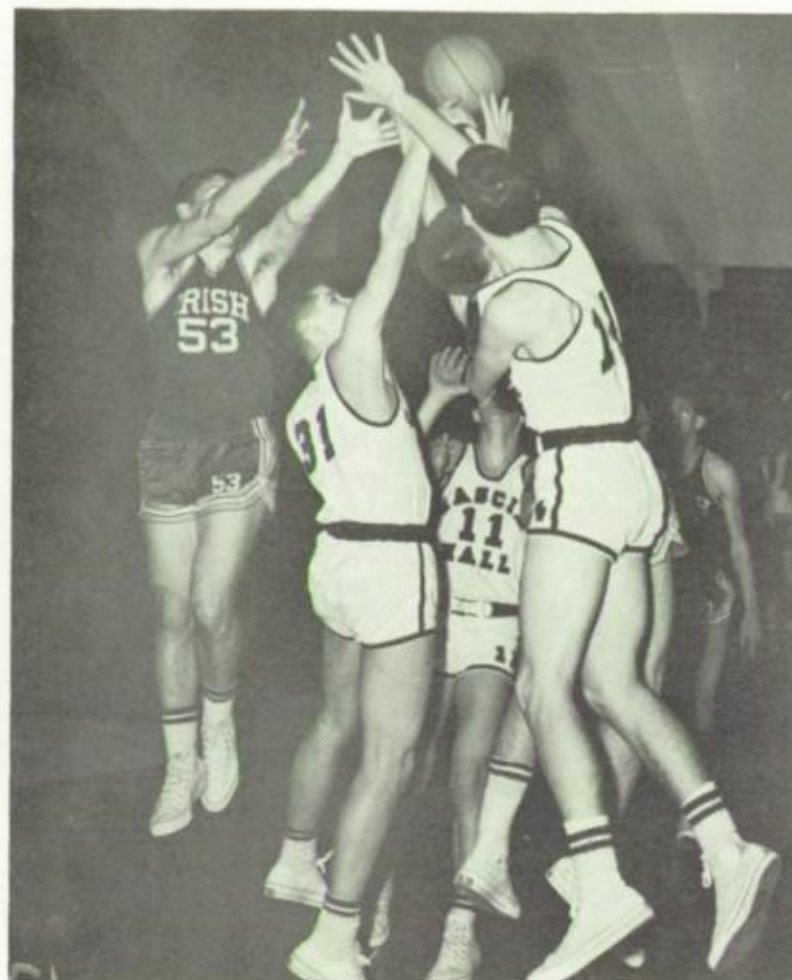

The final game was so close that it was not decided until Dick Allred hit a 25-foot set shot at the sound of the buzzer. With this victory, Cascia took, for the second year in a row, first place in the Catholic Conference Tournament.

Baseball

There is a large array of returning lettermen, and any slack that may have been left with the loss of last year's seniors is sure to be taken up by the fresh crop of new players. The 1965 Baseball Commandoes are especially fortunate this year in that they were able to exhibit both new uniforms and a new coach. Coach Hal McBride is not a stranger to the athletes in the school and has a meritorious reputation as an assistant football coach.

The team relied upon the pitching of Dick Brown and Dick Allred. Their battery mate was Blake Hastings. The infield consisted of Ted Williams, Judd Dent, Chris Szlichta, and Bob McIlroy. Backing the team in the outfield was David Held, Hank Meyer, and Bill Suliburk.

The Towers Staff wishes to congratulate the baseball team on their fine performance this season.

Track

Track is back faster and better than ever. James Sposato heads the coaching staff. He will be assisted by Robert McGoffin and George Wallace, who participated at Tulsa University and were later Missouri Valley champions of 1962. The Commandoes have a fine nucleus back from last years state runnerup team. Heading the list are: Kelly Stockton, Jack Sinclair, Phil Franzel, John Termini, and Dennis Brand. The Towers staff wishes the track team good luck in this year's meets.

Sinclair completes relay with Stockton.

Well
Mike, I am really glad you
made it and graduating with the class of the 69ers. It's been grate knowing and I hope to see you this summer and maybe we can knock a little together. Well
Mike the best of luck and good wishes
You Bud, Phil

Mike,

We've finally made
it and O.V. time is here.
I hope to see you there.
You are a great guy and a very mature one. Have fun this summer.

Lots of Luck
Tom Morris
